

Sellers Assistant & eBay Trading Assistant Fees & Commissions

The following schedule of vehicle consignment fees and sale commissions and applies to all eBay

Trading assistant auctions and or Sellers assistant fees for selling through either our virtual storefront or an online marketplace. They are payable according to the terms and conditions of the vehicle consignor agreement. Consignment fees are not credited against Commissions, and are non-refundable and non-transferable. Commission is charged only in the event of a vehicle sale (see vehicle consignor agreement). Consignment fees are payable upon acceptance of the consignor agreement terms. Commission is due once a vehicle is sold either by us or you through another means for a period of 60 days from when the listing starts. This is design to help us work together with taking all offers serious to come to a completed deal.

Consignment Fees, Start up Fees (non-refundable)

$65.00 - eBay Reserve Auction Set-up Fee and Trading Assistant Auction Management

eBay Motors reserve auction set-up fee of sixty-five dollars on all vehicle auction listings.

As your eBay auction trading assistant we make every effort to see that your vehicle sells.

When Your Vehicle Sells

1. $100.00 - eBay "Car Sold" Success Fee

eBay Motors charges one hundred dollars on all successful vehicle auctions. Your eBay auction trading assistant will forward your fee to eBay at the end of the auction billing cycle. (note: this fee is not credited against commissions) this is only due if the vehicle sells meets the reserve and sells on eBay.

2. 7% - Final Sale Price Commission

As your Sellers Assistant and eBay trading assistant upon the successful sale we charge a flat 7% commission on all vehicles base on the actual sale price.

Our commission rate is less than the normal 10-15% that you would pay at a Car Auction or Consignment Lot and without the expense entry fees of taking your car to and from those places. We come to you and the vehicle does not leave your possession until it is paid for.

We invest many hours to build an ad along with the marketing of your vehicle before it becomes sold. With your full cooperation we will have success in finding qualified buyers for a completed sale.

We do not charge a Buyers Fee like Auctions do, which leaves the buyer more money to spend buying your vehicle.

One other choice we offer is if you would like to work on a net amount do to you, using any monies drawn over that amount as a commission.

Start up fees and agree upon net price will be set before listing starts.
